Washington High School has set another enrollment record this year. The total enrollment is 970 students and 55 faculty members. This is the largest number of students ever attending WHS. Of the 970 students, there are 490 girls and 480 boys. So, as you can see, the girls hold a margin of 10 students.

Of the 490 girls at WHS this year, 93 of them are seniors, 128 are juniors, 127 are sophomores, and 142 of them are freshmen. Of the 480 boys this year, 116 are seniors, 112 are juniors, 112 are sophomores, and 140 are freshmen.

Teachers Honored

Thursday, September 18 after school, Miss Mary Rust, former Latin and journalism teacher, and Miss Mary Knowles, former librarian were given a special recognition by all the WHS teachers and secretaries. Mr. Kinman presented each of them with a special gift. A song, which expressed the life of a teacher, was then dedicated to them. Refreshments were enjoyed by all.

New Location

Mr. Stuffle, Superintendent of Washington Community Schools, remarked that his office will soon be moved to the former post office building located at the corner of South and Third Street.

Likewise, the Maintenance Department will be moved with the Superintendent's office to that same building. The main purpose of the move is to centralize the administrative and the maintenance to allow better service to the schools and community.

IT CAN BE DONE

Throwing pennies, a favorite pastime activity of study hall students and an annoyance to teachers, has been cracked down on by Mr. Walker in his third period study hall. After repeatedly telling the boys to "Please quit throwing pennies," Mr. Walker employed the help of informers to get the names of the penny pitchers. After securing the names of the guilty parties, Mr. Walker noted that the penny throwing had stopped. One of the pitchers was heard to say "I'd just better not find out who the informers are."

The Student Scope

QUESTIONS--ANSWERS

The Ink-Ovation staff took a student poll of the new thirty-five minute activities period on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and the seventy minute period on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The survey was given to only those students who were in study hall during the day. The survey question stated, "Do you like the activities period and the seventy minute period?" The answers available to the question were no and improvement needed, yes and improvement needed, and yes with no improvement needed.

From the freshman class, the results were 53% no and improvement needed, 22% yes and improvement needed, and 25% yes with no improvement.

Sixty-five per cent of the sophomores questioned checked no and improvement needed, 16% checked yes and improvement needed, and 19% checked yes with no improvement.

The junior class results were 74% no and improvement needed, 18% yes and improvement needed, and 8% yes with no improvement necessary.

Last, but not least, the seniors results were 83% no and improvement needed, 8% yes and improvement needed, and 9% yes with no improvement necessary.

The staff certainly felt that this same survey would have different results three months from now.

YOU'LL NEVER BELIEVE what our Co-Editor did this time. It was probably the funniest incident in the history of WHS. Continued on page 9456 of the Israeli edition.

55 On Faculty - 15 New Members

MRS. BETTY JACOBS, a resident of Bloomington, Indiana, graduated with her MS and BS degrees from Indiana University. Before coming to Washington High School, Mrs. Jacobs taught at Shortridge High School in Indianapolis. Besides taking care of a nine year old son her hobby includes reading in her spare time. Her main ambition is to travel all the states and abroad. Hoping more students will use the library in the future, Mrs. Jacobs has a desire to start a Library Club.

MR. STEPHEN WALKER will be the new basic mathematics and applied math teacher this year at Washington High School. A graduate from Dale High School in Dale, Indiana. Mr. Walker attended De Pauw University and received a B. S. degree in mathematics. He did his student teaching at Greencastle, Indiana.

Mr. Walker said that athletics was his main hobby. While in college, he was pitcher and outfielder four years on the De Pauw baseball team in addition to playing football and freshman basketball.

The comment made about WHS by Mr. Walker was, "You have a nice school system and nice working conditions." Mr. Walker was also impressed by the friendly attitude of the students.

A smile is a frown turned upside down.

One of the new teachers in the Social Studies and mathematics departments is MR. RONALD L. BARNES, a former 1964 student teacher under Mr. Victor Di Canio and Mr. Ellis Smith.

Mr. Barnes studied at Manual High School in Louisville Kentucky, then proceeded on to the University of Kentucky. He also attended Cincinnati Bible Seminary, and Louisville Bible Seminary, from which he received a Bachelor of Sacred Literature Degree. He obtained a B.S. degree in Education from Oakland City College and an M.S. from Indiana University.

Mr. Barnes is married and has two daughters Barbara and Rhonda. Barbara a fifth grader attends South Side School and Rhonda a seventh grader attends W.J.H.S.

For pastime he enjoys fishing and some hunting.

Before teaching at W.H.S., Mr. Barnes taught Social Studies, Mathematics, and was also a guidance Counselor at North Daviess High School.

"As a whole, W.H.S. students are a group of nice young people. Most are neat in appearance. The styles have changed alot but neatness seems to be the basic stress in the appearance of students in maintenance of the school."

Another new face on the teaching staff this year is that of MR. BRYON WALDEN.

Mr. Walden graduated from the University High School in Bloomington, Indiana in 1962. He then went to Indiana University in 1962-63. From IU he went to Indiana State University where he graduated in 1967.

Mr. Walden's hobby is flying.

"I would encourage more school spirit." This is a comment of Mr. Walden.

Mr. Walden teaches shop and graphic arts.

Another new face on the WHS faculty this year is MR. JERRY MULLIS. Taking on triple duty his first year here, Mr. Mullis, a native of Bedford, Indiana went on from his hometown school to graduate from Indiana State University with a B.S. degree.

His interests and activities vary from teaching Sunday School at the Free Methodist Church to playing chess and reading. He also plays tennis and basketball.

Besides being new to WHS and teaching, Mr. Mullis is also new to married life.

We extend our apologies to MR. KOERNER, as we did not find him in time for an interview. His interview will appear in the next issue of Ink-Ovation.

MR. KEN ZIEGLER, a Biology teacher previously involved in embryological research on Axylots "Salamanders", graduated from Indiana University with his AB degree.

Mr. Ziegler has recently returned from a summer job in a private Jewish boys camp in New York where he and other sponsors were responsible for supervising trips up and down the Delaware River, deep sea fishing on the Atlantic, and numerous other related trips for almost eighty boys.

Mr. Ziegler, a youth choir helper, attends the Luthern Church. His hobbies are collecting tropical fish, buying classical and modern records, swimming and woodcrafting.

His pet peeve is people who think their way is always best.

MR. JAMES FARLEY graduated from Paoli High School. He went to the University of Alabama to get his B.S. degree. He was a student teacher at Boteler High School in Alabama. He wrote the play the Death of the Meek and is looking forward to helping the Drama Club in it's production.

His wife Mrs. Phyllis Jane Farley teaches Junior High Home Economics.

His pet peeve is students who won't "settle down," and his hobbies include oil painting and watching sports. Mr. Farley said that he was looking forward to teaching here at WHS.

A frown is a smile turned upside down.

MRS. ELIZABETH LORD, one of the thirteen new teachers at WHS, has worked with kindergarten children before teaching at the high school level. When asked, "Do you feel there is much difference in teaching or getting along with high school students as compared with the younger children?" She responded enthusiastically, "I really see very little difference in communicating with the students."

When Mrs. Lord received her B.A. from Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee, she had a major in English. This past summer she obtained her Masters degree from Indiana University. As part of her graduate work, Mrs. Lord spent nine days in New York. During her stay she attended Broadway plays; some of which were The Great White Hope and 1776. She also saw Julie Harris in Forty Carats, and Pearl Bailey in Hello Dolly. Mrs. Lord indicated that she enjoyed 1776 the best.

Mrs. Lord stated that she is very well pleased with the attitudes and manners of the students. She is also appreciative of the materials available. At the present time Mrs. Lord has one sophomore class and four junior classes.

MRS. LYNN GLASS, the new Spanish teacher at WHS, believes there is definitely a generation gap among today's youth and the adults. When asked how it could be overcome, Mrs. Glass replied, "I don't think it will be. It needs more understanding and open - mindedness on both sides." She feels another contributing factor is the publicity teenagers of today receive, making more people aware of their problems.

According to Mrs. Glass the facilities at WHS are excellent.

She attended South Bend Central High School where she was a member of the French club, GAA, Spanish club, and American Field Service, which is a foreign exchange student program. Mrs. Glass also attended Indiana University.

MR. EUGENE SMITH has transferred from Washington Junior High to Washington High this year as a Freshman Math teacher. Mr. Smith will also be teaching Driver's Education and Health and Safety. Mr. Smith attended Oakland City College and Indiana University and obtained two degrees, an A.B. and a M.S. in Math, Physical Education, Biology and Health and Safety.

Mr. Smith coached baseball and basketball for eighteen years before coming to Washington. He is still very interested in sports and has a special interest in hunting and fishing.

Mr. Smith hopes to remain teaching after retirement from Washington somewhere with a higher retirement age. He says he likes teaching in Washington and likes the community.

Miss Roberts returned from France on August 6, after spending a two month tour there. At the age of eleven she also visited France. Paris and Nice are two of her favorite cities.

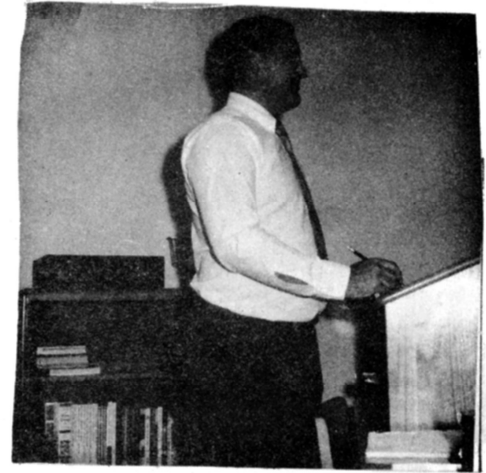

Miss Roberts enjoys teaching at WHS and is very pleased with the school and its facilities. She is sponsoring the French Club, pep block, and the cheerleaders.

Having student taught at Vincennes High School, he graduated from Indiana State University in 1969 with a B.S. in Industrial Education. While in college he was a member of a social and honorary fraternity and also a member of an Industrial Education club.

When asked what his first impression was of Washington High School, he said, "The school has changed considerably. It is larger, has a new building, and has more students and teachers than when I graduated from Washington High School."

The improvements in the Industrial Arts Department impresses him the most.

MR. CORDON WADE, teaching social studies has joined the WHS faculty this year. His wife Mrs. Pat Wade is Speech and Hearing Therapist for the grade schools in this area.

Mr. Wade added that he likes teaching here because the students are very cooperative.

Beneficial To Life

The freshmen Home Ec. classes have been studying and preparing apples in a variety of ways. They stressed the importance of apples to Indiana's economy, their nutrition, and the adding of variety to our menus. The girls were divided into six groups which prepared and served cooked apples in the six following ways: apple dumplings, baked apples, apple crisp, apple coffeecake, applesauce cake, and fried apples. The girls were very efficient in that they prepared, served, and cleaned up their room in one period.

When asked his opinion on student teaching at WHS, Mr. Snow replied, "Working with Mr. Chamness is great because he's interesting and I enjoy working with all my classes, especially economics."

WHAT'S THIS BABY BUSINESS?

Did you hear the statement made by Mr. Bill Sellers in his first period salesmanship class? Well hang on, here it comes. "Some girls in short skirts look pretty nice, but others when they walk, they look like two babies under a blanket that are fighting."

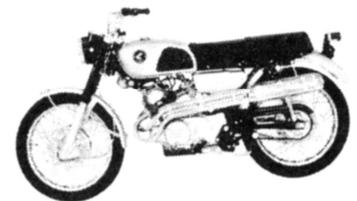

MISS CAROLYN THOMPSON, a student teacher in the Biology department, under Mr. Wachter, graduated from Elnora High School. Having attended Vincennes University, for two years, she will graduate from Indiana University in January. She enjoys swimming, water skiing, and sewing. Her pet peeve is students being late for class.

Juniors Have Book Review

Mrs. Arch Waller, one of the distinguished members of our community, was the guest speaker for the following junior classes, Mrs. Lord's, Mrs. Lawson's, Mrs. Pate's, and Mr. Burke's. Mrs. Waller is known for her outstanding book reviews in this state and others.

At the program Mrs. Waller reviewed the book, The Mothers of the American Presidents, by Doris Faber. This is a recently published book about the mothers of some of the presidents. She retold some of the interesting and amazing facts of the presidents mothers and their lives.

Most of the students, who are studying the colonial period, had never been to a book review before and stated that they enjoyed the program. Mrs. Waller also confessed that she had never spoken for a group this young and was unsure of its outcome. The result was an enthusiastic applause at the end.

Mrs. Waller has been vice-president of the Association of Retarded Children and is now serving on the Library Board.

Brad McCracken introduced Mrs. Waller and Jay Reinsel presented her with a gift.

The program was video-taped by Robert Seat and Richard Schue.

"THE MORE THE MERRIER" as the saying goes. But not in the case of Mr. Thomas Pegler band director. With 61 new members who have never marched before is just one of the many headaches of Mr. Pegler. For with all the inexperienced marchers there also comes another problem, uniforms. Regardless of the shortage the band has met all its engagements.
