Sneak Preview

Many people had been wondering what the WHS musical was going to be and Monday February 23, Mr. Dan McDaniel revealed the mystery. The musical will be Oliver written and composed by Lionel Bart. Taken from the setting of Charles Dickens Oliver Twist this musical has been acclaimed by critics as a "masterpiece of showmanship"; "a sublime musical".

Try outs for singing leads will be Monday, March 1 at 3:45 in the Auditorium. March 2 will be try outs for the speaking roles and March 3 will be try outs for the singing chorus at the same time and location as on March 1.

HELP! WE NEED SOMEBODY

And we got it! Vinni Brashear (above) and the Latin students came to the rescue to help the staff get the issue out on time. We extend our thanks to everyone taking the time to help us. THANKS!

Washington School Song

Fight, Fight for old Washington!
Fight until the battle is won--
For old Gold and Black on high--
Sing Washington's praises to the sky.
Although the odds be great or small,
Old Washington will win over all
As her loyal sons and daughters
March on to victory.
Yea, Beat 'em! Bust 'em!
Beat 'em! Bust 'em!
That's our custom!
Fight! Fight! Fight!
Fight! Fight!
