

"69 Year of Change at WHS

E. O'Bryan

From the "Model T" to the "Mustang Mach I". That's how far the automobile has been advanced.

A school, believe it or not, is like a car in this way. Sooner or later the mechanics and appearance of a school will change.

This likeness of a car is more apparent this year at WHS than ever before. The first change that has come over Hatched Harbor this year is the crowning of the Homecoming Queen at the pep session. This allows the students to find out who the queen is before anyone else in the town does, which is only right. Another change is one which is not new to most students at WHS. This of course is the activity period in the middle of the school day.

FFA Guest

Keith Whitting, an exchange member from England, was the speaker at the October 8 convocation held in the auditorium. Joe Kendall, President of FFA, told the student body about the exchange program the FFA participates in with other states and countries.

Joe presented the speaker, Keith Whitting, who was from Somerset County in western England. Keith talked briefly about England before showing colorful slides of his country. He pointed out many of the differences and similarities he has noticed since he came to America on July 16.

The first twelve days of Keith's visit were spent in Washington, D.C. Then he traveled to five or six states before coming to Washington, Indiana.

He noted that England is not as vast and spread out as America. Also, driving "on the wrong side of the road" and the bigger American cars were quite a change for Keith.

The basic similarity that he noted was the people. Both in England and America they tried to make him feel at home.

Slides were then shown of the English country side and Keith's farm. Scenes of London, the Buckingham Palace, and a picture of Queen Elizabeth concluded the program.

ALL STATE CHORUS

The State of Indiana has organized, for the first time, a state wide chorus. The chorus was selected from preliminary contests. Try outs for this area were held at Vincennes Lincoln High School. Several students from WHS attended this contest.

Annual Staff

The Washingtonian, the school annual, has a staff of ten this year. Joe Ashby, a three year veteran in the business, is the Editor. Section Editors are; Organization, Diane Haium; Student-Life, Vicky Ingle and Donna Ricks; Sports, Joe Kendall; Seniors, Harriet Spaulding and Linda Williams; Underclassmen, Pam Eaton and Vicky Littell; Faculty Sandy Arvin.

Mr. David Chamness, who is sponsor of the Washingtonian, commented that there will be 700 annuals ordered. Five hundred of the books will have padded backs. 200 will be hard-backed.

Besides the traditional colored picture of the senior class in the front and back. There will be other colored pictures through-out the book. Since suscriptions this fall are available to seniors only. All underclassmen may purchase one next spring for $4.50.

Art of Getting Along May Be Learned

Sooner or later, a man if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. He learns that being a sensitive soul doesn't pay. That one who loses his temper usually loses out.

He learns that all men have burnt bacon for breakfast once in awhile and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's gripe too seriously. He learns that the quickest way to make friends is to be one and the quickest way to lose friends is to carry gossip and tales about others.

He comes to realize that the world could get along without him. He learns to smile and say "Good morning" even if it is a rainy day. He learns to overlook others' mistakes because he knows he is no expert himself. He learns that no man ever trod con... on column 3.

At 3:20, the dismissal bell rings and the halls are filled with students. By 3:30, the halls are cleared, of students anyway. Trash, paper, gum, and other litter remain behind as evidence of the mass exodus.

Some litter is expected. That is why the school has custodians. However, much of the litter is due to the carelessness and thoughtlessness of students.

A good example of this is the gum and candy often found in drinking fountains. Besides being an unnecessary mess to clean up, the candy and gum make it rather unpleasant to get a drink.

Another example is the mess in the student lounge. Candy wrappers and bottles left in the lounge are bad enough, but many wrappers and bottles are spread throughout the school.

To help remedy the problem of excessive litter in our school, organizations have again started clean-up programs. But is this the correct solution? I feel that by being a little more considerate of others and being a little more careful where trash is thrown the students themselves could greatly improve the appearance of our school.

BUY IT FOR A SONG

Two hot rods sat quivering at a stop light, their teenage owners eager to be speeding down the highway. Over the roar of the motors, the kid in the hopped-up red Ford yelled, "Hey, Tom, that's a pretty fine custom you have there."

"Yeh, I bought it for a song, too. You remember the guy who was killed about a month ago in that big wreck uptown? Well, I picked up his hot rod at a used car lot. I had to do a lot of work on the body; it was a mess, but the motor was in fine condition. I bet it will beat anything on the road."

"Want to prove that?" Jim called as the light turned green. He gunned out with a loud roar, just asking for a drag.

Tom took his dare and went after him. Faster and faster the two cars went, neck and neck down the two lane road. 70-75-80. Beads of sweat broke out on Tom's forehead. He was scared, but he wouldn't chicken out. Then, suddenly, a truck loomed right in front of him! No time to turn, to get out of the way! Tom felt a sudden agonizing pain, then nothing.

His hot rod sits on the used car lot again. The body is really mangled, but the motor is good. It can be bought for a song, and, the car dealer says with a little work, it will beat anything on the road.

THE HATCHETS: scored their first touchdown of the 1969 football season against the Bedford Stonecutters but lost by the score of 38-6.

For the first time this season, the Hatchets passing attack was able to run up some yardage. Washington passed 22 times and completed 8 for 162 yards. Kim Smith, the WHS regular quarterback, did most of the passing as he passed for 17 completions in 20 attempts. Jim Kaarre, a sophomore quarterback completed one of two attempts.

The Hatchets score was made in the first quarter. Mike McLemore, a senior flanker caught a pass and out ran the Bedford defense for 64 yards for the touchdown.

The Hatchets had 9 first downs and 52 yards rushed and rushed for 163 yards.

The score by quarters was 6-6; 0-8; 0-12; 0-12.

Bill O'Brian received the Monster Bucket for the most defensive tackles in the game.

THE WASHINGTON HATCHETS, lost their fifth straight game to Huntingburg by a score of 21-0.

The Hatchets were out-gained in yards rushed on the ground by 157 for the Hunters to 58 for Washington. Huntingburg gained 67 yards in the air completing 5 of 11 attempts. The Hatchets passed for 27 yards completing 4 of 14 attempts.

The Hunters also had more first downs than Washington by a margin of 13-6.

The score by quarters was 0-7; 0-0; 0-0; 0-14.

Roger Lemon was awarded the Monster Bucket for the most defensive tackles.

THE NORTH KNOX WARRIORS rallied in the final quarter of play to hand the Hatchets a loss by the score of 16-0.

The game went real even the first three periods of play in which neither team scored. Then in the last quarter the Warriors scored two touchdowns and two, 2 point conversions for their 16 points.

Washington rushed on the ground for 101 yards while North Knox rushed on the ground for 203 yards. The Hatchets completed 5 of 15 attempts in the passing department for 42 yards. The Warriors completed 8 of 16 attempts for 55 yards. The Warriors also had more first downs than the Hatchets by a margin of 14-11. The Warriors penalties totaled 97 yards while the Hatchets had only 37 yards.

Bill O'Brian received the Monster Bucket for the most defensive tackles in the game.

W.H.S. B-TEAM defeated Mitchell by the score of 32-0. Jim Kaarre threw three touchdown passes. Kaarre passed to Buhr for a 35 yard touchdown and later passes to Buhr for a 5 yard touchdown.

In the second quarter Kaarre threw another touchdown to Max Humbaugh. Kaarre also passed to Buhr for a 2 point conversion.

To round out the scoring, in the second half Danny Grow and Jim Kaarre each ran for touchdown.

The B-team now have a record of 3 and 2.

THE B-TEAM football has a record of 2-2 so far this season. In the first game the little Hatchets defeated North Central 18-0. In their second game, Huntingburg defeated our gridmen 16-6. In their third game, the Hatchets were upset by Springs Valley 26-8. In their fourth contest of the season the little Hatchets were victorious over Linton by a 42-0 score.

In the Linton game, Jim Kaarre threw four touchdown passes. Kaarre threw two to Max Humbaugh and two to Terry Buhr. Kaarre completed 10-13 passes the first half. During the second half, Jeff Thompson took over as quarterback and completed 4-5 passes. Ralph Price scored on a thirty-five yard run. Barry Cline scored on a seven yard plunge.

THE B-TEAM have won all their home games, lost two away games. Every game that the B-team have won, the other team hasn't scored.

The B-team have been averaging 20.8 points per game while holding their opponents to 8.4 points per game. Keep up the good work team.

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY

Honesty has often been said to be the best policy. In Mr. Burk's third period psychology class an honest experiment is under way.

Students wrote letters and notes with their name or locker number on the outside and distributed them throughout the halls.

The purpose of the experiment was to find the percentage of letters returned by the honest students.

WE'RE EXPECTING A VICTORY was the theme of the Senior's float, which won first place in the contest.

The team's traditional ride in the fire engine was one of the many units in the Homecoming Parade.

SOPHOMORES received the third place in the contest.

Majorettes and Pom-Pom girls prepare to march to the football field for the Homecoming show.

Our apologies---Pictures were not available of Freshmen and Junior floats.

COMING

Homecoming 1969 displayed the best school spirit in several years. Homecoming started with competition for the "cheer box" which was won by the senior class by a close margin.

The highlight of the day was the crowning of senior Pam Eaton as Homecoming Queen 1969. Her court consisted of Junior, Connie Bezy; sophomore, Donna Copeland; and freshman, Cheryl Hunley. Another highlight of the pep session was Mayor Frye's congratulating WHS on its spirit and extending the curfew.

Later that evening, WHS sponsored the annual Homecoming Parade downtown. The parade consisted of the WHS varsity band, Washington Junior High Band, Winslow High School Band, the varsity cheerleaders, football team, coaches, Mr. Stuffle and Mayor Frye, Parade Marshals. The highlight of the parade was the Queen and her court and the high school floats.

First place float went to the seniors; second to the FFA float; and third went to the sophomore float.

Following the parade was the bon fire in honor of the varsity football team.

Later the Hatchets were defeated by North Knox in one of the best games of the season.

After the game the Beta Club sponsored a dance which featured the "Fifth Column."

FFA rated second place in the float contest at the Homecoming Parade.

An odd sight at Friday's bonfire was the little brown building setting atop the pile of wood. Behind the little building is quite a story.

It seems that Thursday night several senior boys who had been working hard and steadily for three weeks on the homecoming float were becoming desenchanted. Several suggestions for something to do arose but none really excited anyone. Then came the idea to get an out-house for the bonfire. The idea seemed to gain enthusiasm, somehow,

THE SOUTHERN INDIANA AREA

The southern Indiana area meeting of school administrators, librarians and media specialists is scheduled to be held at Washington High School on Monday, October 13, with registration beginning at 430.

The speaker will be Miss Peggy Sullivan former director of the Knapp Project. Miss Sullivan is the author of "The Key to Standard is People," a article which appeared in Educational Screen and Audiovisual Guide, June, 1969.

Mrs. Peggy Pfeiffer, a staff member of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, will serve as panel moderator.

WHS is honored because it has more representatives than any other school in the area.

The students will stay in dormitory housing at Butler University and rehearsals will begin Saturday November 15. The concert will be held at Clowes Hall, in Indianapolis, Sunday, November 16, at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Traylor's Latin Club met on Monday, elected Latin Club officers, and the second year students performed the skit called, "A Day Without Latin." Purpose of the skit was to show the value of Latin everyday activities, such as eating, swimming, driving, etc.

After the skit, they sang in Latin, "Are You Sleeping" and "Row, Row, Row, Your Boat." The Club sang these in rounds with four different groups singing. They also had a contest between the first and second year students to see which could sing "In Latin Class" louder. They tied for first place.

Oscar Wilde's Excellent comedy, "The Importance of Being Ernest", put on by WHS Thespians was a great success.

The magnificent portrayals of the leading characters John Worthing (Scott Jones), Algernon Moncrieff (John West), Gwendolyn Fairfax (Vicki Collision), Cecily Cardew (Ruth Ann Dougherty), Lady Bracknell (Pat Czirr), Dr. Chauncey (Roger Clark), and Miss Prism (Jean Loudon) added empathy to the play's meaning.

The minor characters Dolly (Sandy Noble), Merriman (Louis Schnarr), and Lane (Bill Lord) also did a great job in playing their parts.

INTRAMURALS - Dark Days Forecasted

No one had ever heard of intramural sports at WHS, until last year when principal David Kinman decided that all students should have a chance to participate in competitive sports. Under the direction of Mr. Donald Schweikarth the program was launched. Things looked doubtful for the program at first. For there were few teams organized for volleyball, the first sport played.

Basketball seemed to serve the day. For when the season started it seemed that every one wanted to get in the act. Twice as many students joined teams. The intramural program was saved con... next column.

FRENCH CLUB HAS CONTEST

A contest was held in Miss Robert's French I classes. Projects had been made by the students and they voted, determining the best project made.

Susan Hagel was the winner. She had made a large story book on a Fable de La Fontaine with illustrations. Second place winner was Vicky Branaman who made a three dimension scene of a sailboat on the ocean. Debbie Bolton was third place winner with a college and scenes of Paris and France with a story. Ted Hagel was fourth place with a chart of Charlemagne's Empire.

Honorable mentions are Bob Swain, Pam Blackwell, and Stephanie Stoll.

Sooner or later all good things come to an end. Since there is a change in classroom set-up this year. It became inevitable that the program would be carried on during activity period. This is to some advantage. Because who have activities during the week nights and could not make the program, now had a chance to be part of the program.

But as the program is set up at the present time, had is more disadvantage than advantages. The program, of course has been placed in the activity period. The activity period is in the middle of the day. Students who are engaged in sports tend to get hot and sweaty. This makes them uncomfortable for the rest of the day. Intramural sports is one of the best ideas that has come along to WHS in a long time. Every student who takes part in the program does so on his own will. Mr. Schweikarth will welcome any suggestions on ways to improve the system.

ENGLISH CLASSES HAVE VISITOR

On Friday, October 3rd, Mrs. H. O. Norton visited the fifth period sophomore English Class. She read a story entitled "Marjorie Daw," by Thomas Bailey Aldrich. Members of the class met Mrs. Norton in the office and escorted her to the classroom. She was introduced to the class by Tim Cunnings and Walter Case presented her with a gift from the class. The story was interesting and especially exciting the way Mrs. Norton read it. She held the attention of the class throughout the whole period and the group has expressed a desire to have her visit again.

Intramural Team ranking as of October 10 are:

ORIGIN OF CALENDAR

The Latin I students, learned that Julius Caesar's contribution to the calendar reform was in the year 45 B.C. when he fixed the normal year at 365 days and the leap year every fourth year. In 44 B. C. he named the month July after himself. The original Roman calendar had 10 months and the last 6 were named for the Latin words fifth, sixth, seventh, and so on. January and February were added in the 7th century B.C. Julius Caesar helped the calendar greatly by straightening it out.

SHARE TIME CLASSES

Shared-time classes were started in the 1967-1968 with 99 students taking classes at WHS. In the 1968-1969 there were 104, and this year there are 82 students with 100 shared-time hours. Of these 82 students, there are 47 seniors, 23 juniors, 11 sophomores and 1 freshman.

as time went on, and the guys with the help of several senior girls hurriedly put the final touches on the float.

Finally it was finished! Now the guys wanted that out-house. Eight of them climbed in a pick-up truck and took off in search of one. They went to "box-town" and looked all over for a deserted one, but all of them were still in use.

After half an hour of fruitless searching the guys were about to give up. Then one senior suddenly remembered where one was. The eight began to stir up again, and they took off and this time in the direction of Montgomery. They traveled for a long time through country roads until finally they pulled up a dark, dreary, deserted lane. The four seniors riding in the back of the truck were beginning to wonder just where they were. The truck drove up to an old abandoned house and went around the back of it, and there stood a beautiful twin-seated out-house with a rusty tin roof. The driver backed up to it and all eight boys jumped out and began pushing and shoving the old building into the back of the truck. They struggled for several minutes until finally they managed to squeeze it on. All eight contented and laughing seniors hopped back on the truck and were off again for the long journey back.

• They returned safely and unnoticed back to the place where they had started. The valiant eight then plucked their proud possession off the truck and began to paint their names on it.

Several others came and painted their names on it too. The little building seemed to symbolize all the hard work put in by these eight and several others for the past three weeks. It almost made it all seem worthwhile.

Jerry Palmer, Mark Troutman, Mark Fleetwood, David Lynch, Jim McPherson, Kent Allison and Jim Schrieves were the wight boys who donated the building to the bonfire. It was their proud possession and the beautiful twin-seater burned down in glory Friday night, as a symbol of a lot of hard work by several seniors who had devoted their time to make their float win first place!

Cheerleaders Go To Camp

This last summer our varsity cheerleaders Chris Burris, Emily Critchlow, Martha Pridemore, Rita Powell, and Jill Williams, went to Camp Crescendo at Lebanon Junction Kentucky with about 600 other girls. The girls were there from July 6th to July 10th and learned at least 10 new yells.

While they were there, the girls of the camp were divided into groups of 100 and within each group they competed against each other. They were judged for their spirit and for the yell itself. Our varsity cheerleaders placed first, four times, and second, once. They also won the spirit stick which they brought back with them.

Miss Hilbert and Vickie Sturgeon, GAA President, attended a GAA leadership training camp at Epworth Forest, North Webster, Indiana on October 4 and 5. They were accompanied by Mrs. Phyllis Thomas, Darlene Fredricks and Cheryl Bread from South Knox.

The theme for the camp directed by Miss Phyllis Linkmeyer of Elkhart High School was "Happiness Is" and was depicted throughout the camp program by "Peanuts" characters. Miss Mary Lou Walters of Southport High School, the assistant director, will become director of the camp next year.

Although the weekend's events were designed to develop leadership talents, it was not all work. The students and sponsors were provided with a varied recreational and sports program highlighted by presentation of awards at the dinner hour Sunday at noon. One of the outstanding activities at camp was a track and field clinic conducted by Dr. Nell C. Jackson who is a member of the faculty at the University of Illinois.

Sunday afternoon the group broke camp and headed home filled with ideas and enthusiasm for the local club. The weekend camp is sponsored annually by the Indiana League of High School Girl's Athletic Association. President of the state wide organization is Miss Sally Dill of Tuttle Junior High School, Crawfordsville.
