DEDICATION

The 1969 Washingtonian is dedicated to Mrs. Gertrude Dant. Mrs. Dant first came to WHS in 1942, having previously taught in her native Perry County, Indiana. She taught a total of 41 years. When Mrs. Dant came to WHS, she helped to strengthen the language department and helped build it into what it is today. Mrs. Dant was also sponsor of Latin Club and Y-Teens for many years. Following her retirement in 1967, Mrs. Dant taught one year at Washington Catholic High School. She is presently working with language teachers in a teacher workshop. Washington High School gratefully thanks Mrs. Dant for her years of service and dedication.

STUDY

School means study. Our outstanding facilities are used by many students. In the library, students of all grades study undisturbed on a variety of subjects.

A sophomore English class listens attentively to Mr. Chamness.

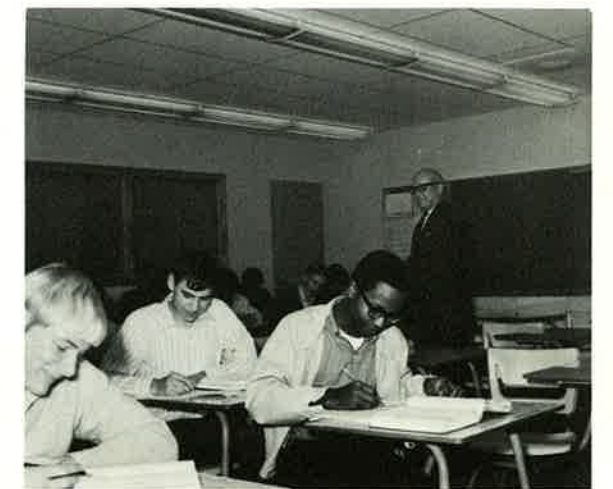

The audio equipment is put to good use by the foreign language classes.

The many aspects of grammar are discussed in Mrs. Lawson's class.

Typing is always an enjoyable class for the girls.

Mr. Evans watches as his students attempt to get their trigonometry lessons.

STRANGE SIGHTS

School means strange sights. Contrary to what many students think, school life is not boring. One is likely to see many odd sights like this toad in the biology room.

"What time is the train from the east due?"

A student in Mr. Sellers' typing class demonstrates how not to hold one's feet.

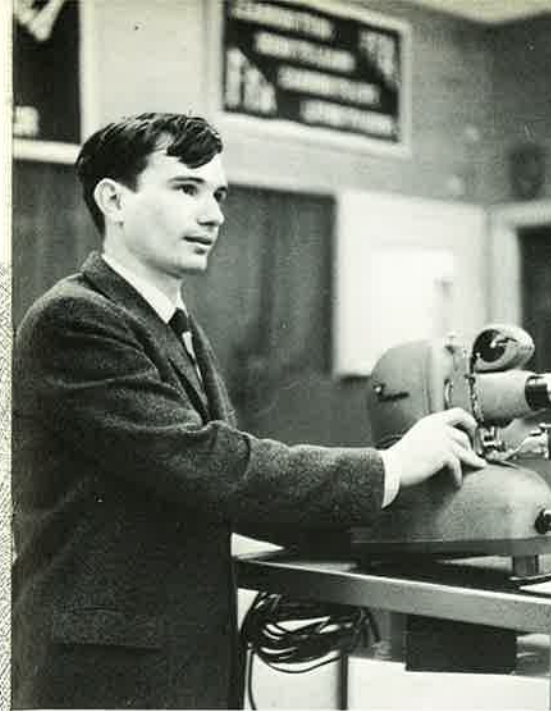

Mr. Wachter is never sure who might appear for one of his classes.

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

School means preparing for the future. Preparing a student to meet the future is a very important phase of the school curriculum. Mrs. Scheid looks on as two of her students learn to prepare a tasty dish.

Mr. Terry Fields joined the faculty during the start of the second semester as an agriculture teacher.

These girls are not only learning good rules of sportsmanship during physical education, they are having fun doing it.

Mr. Noble displays some of the equipment available for student use.

The freshman band knows that it takes a lot of practice to be good.

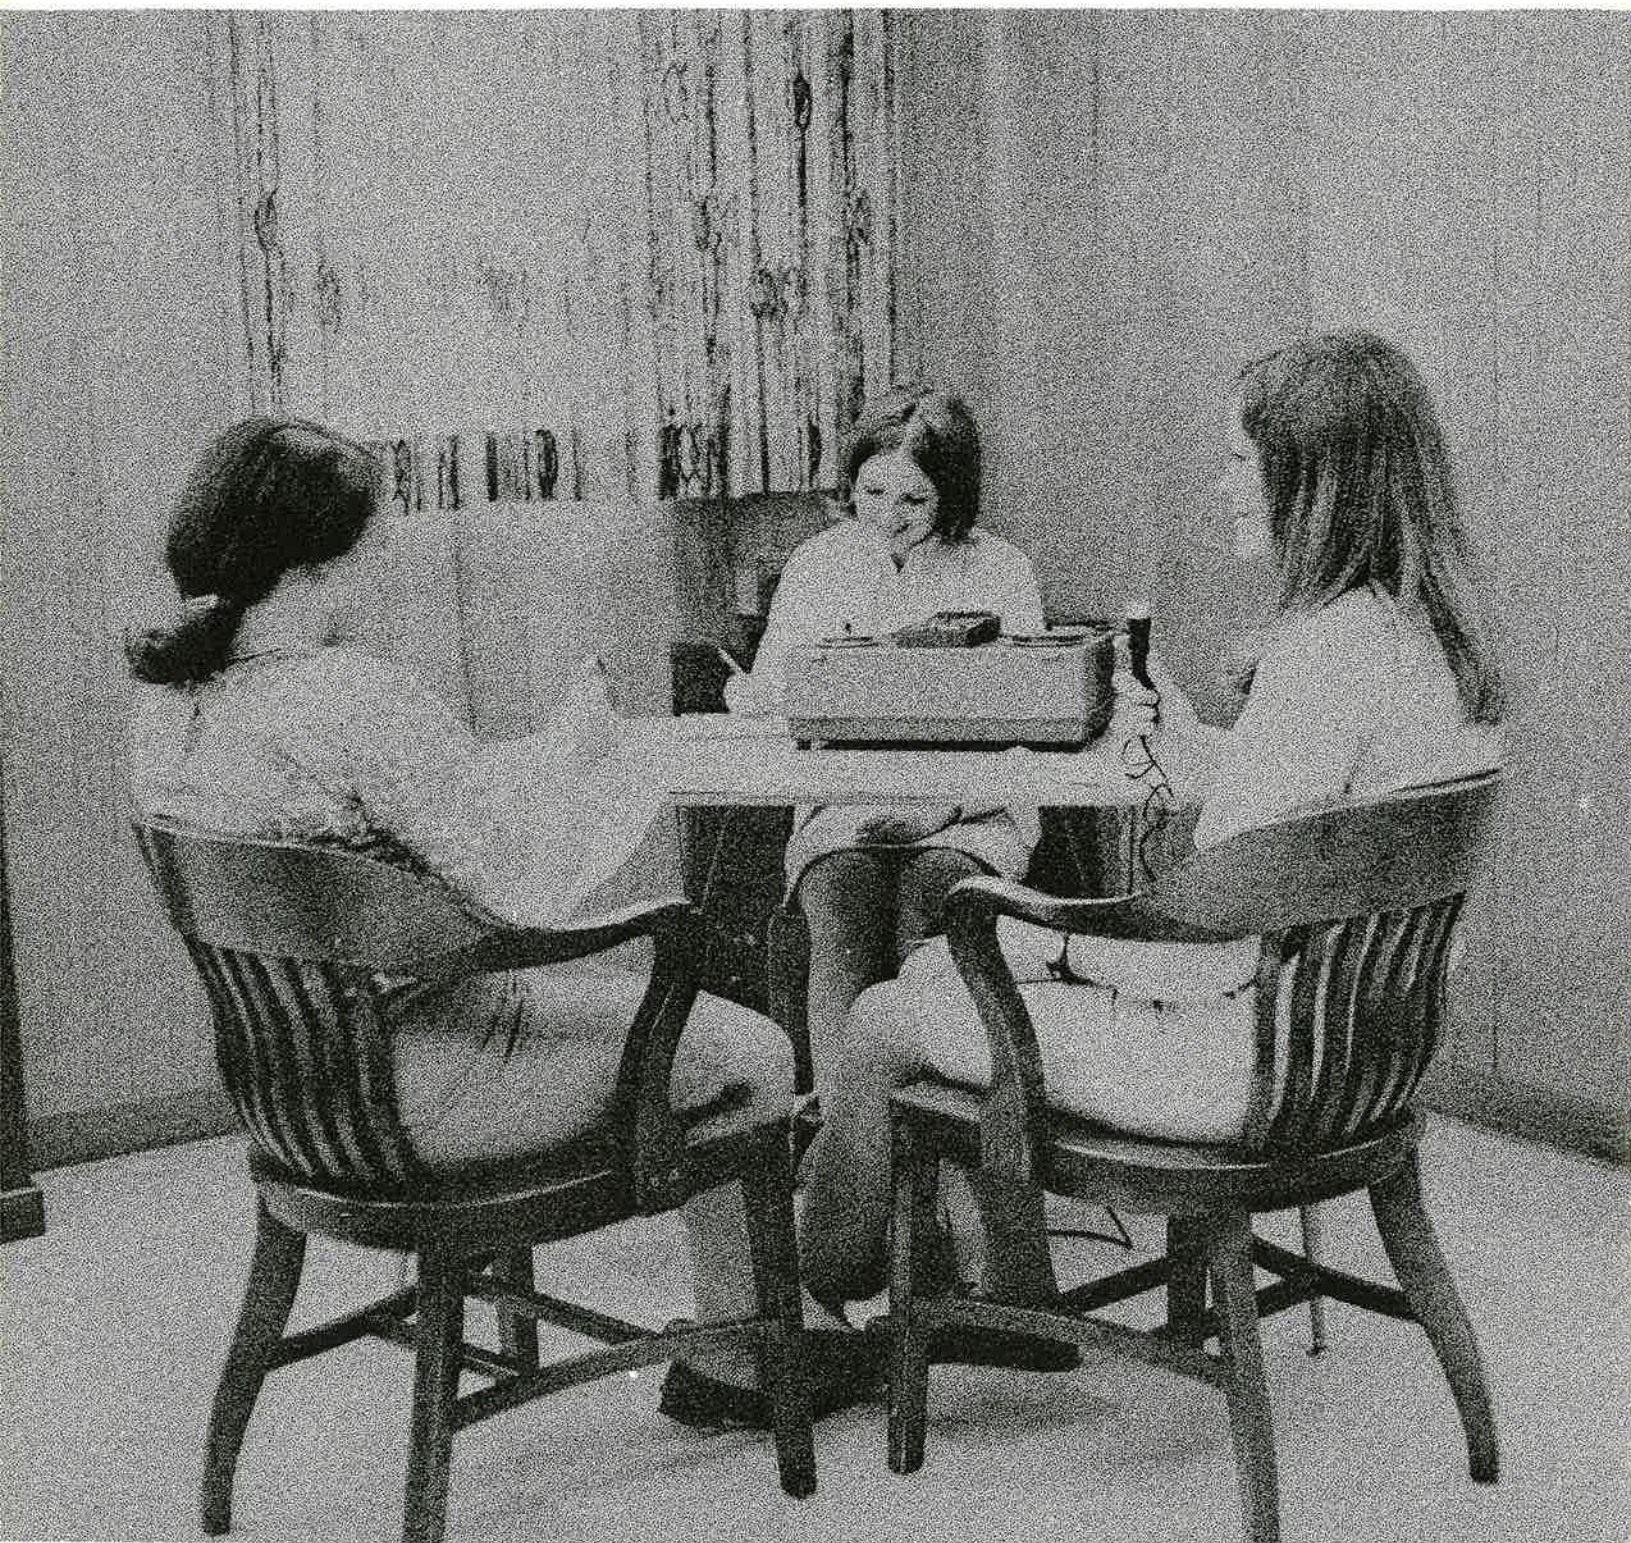

These students are determining the size of a molecule.

Don Collison works on his project in woodshop.

ACTION

School means action, not only during class, but outside of the classroom on a voluntary basis. Carolyn Scott, Julie Opell, and Sharon Donaldson record a program for "W. H. S. in Action".

Cheerleaders Mary Powell and Laurie Chickedantz lead the school body in a spirited pep session.

Paula Price, Meribeth Jones, and Paul Franklin complete the school directory for the Beta Club.

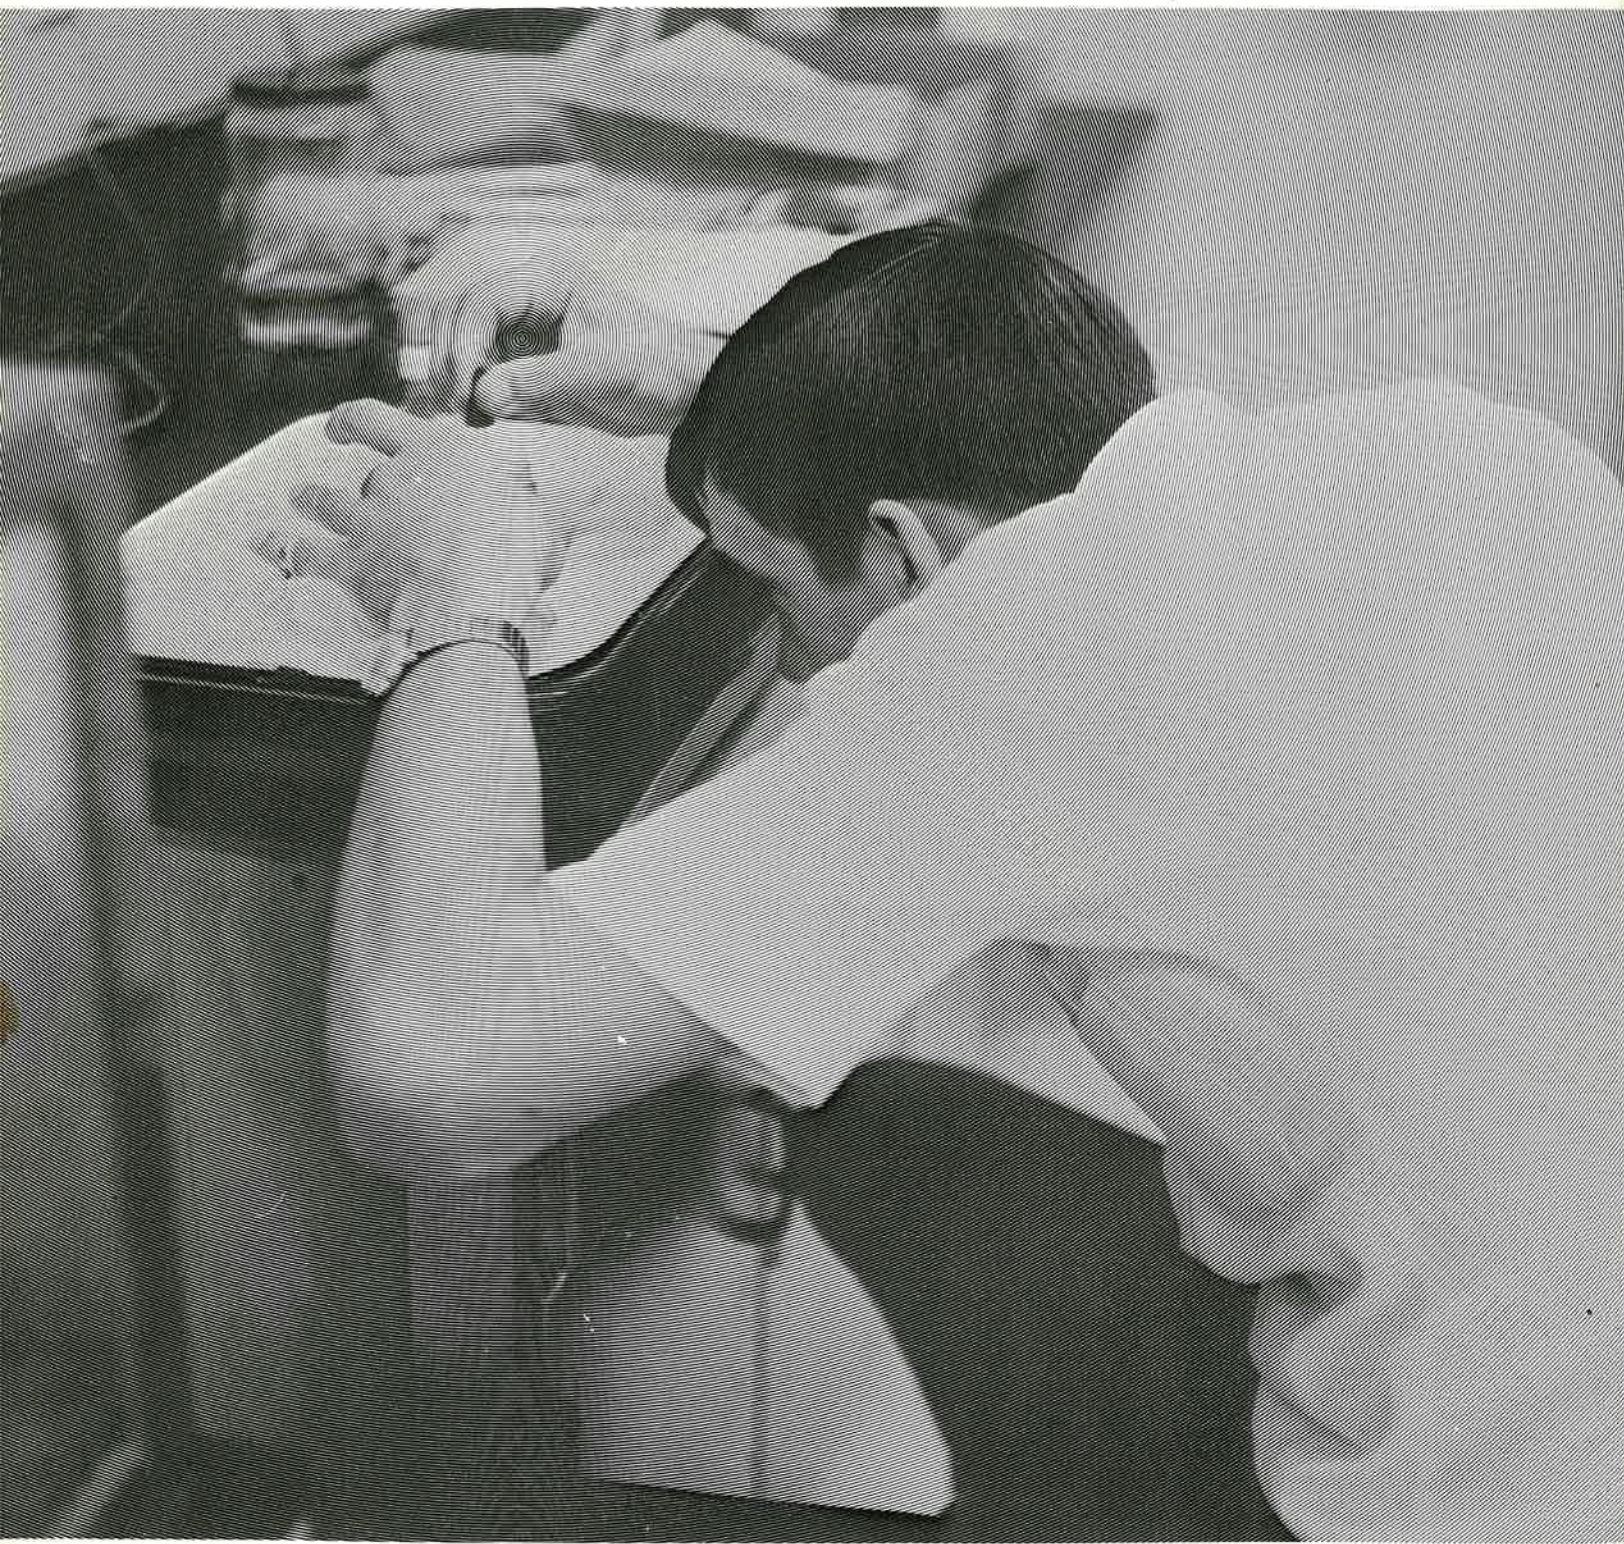

Student teacher Ann Weaver gives one of her young artists some assistance.

Pat Czirr adds the finishing touches to the book fair display.

EXPERIMENTING

School means experimenting. Each student is encouraged to carry on individual research and study. Here, Fred White prepares a culture of bacteria.

Norman Fleenor conducts an experiment in electronics.

Denny Taylor explains the geography of the U.S. to two of his classmates.

John Holland delivers a speech in English.

Sally Heyen gives some assistance to Claudia Alsman in Home Economics.

Jim Hastings prepares small capillary tubes for melting-point observations.

CREATING

School means creating. School develops one's imagination and creative ability. In this art class, sophomore girls are working on the color chart.

Art students, John Wathen and Steve Schroeder, add the finishing touches to a mural.

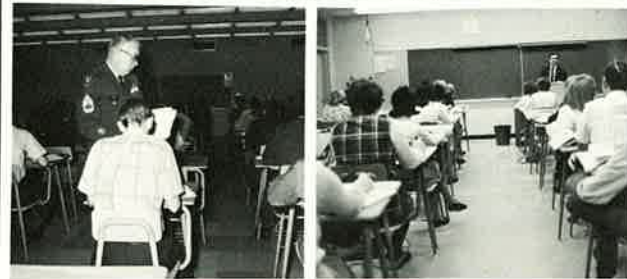

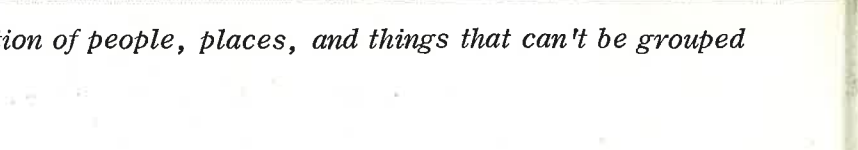

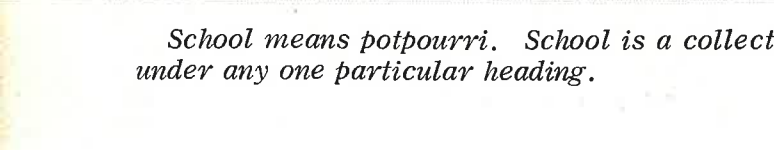

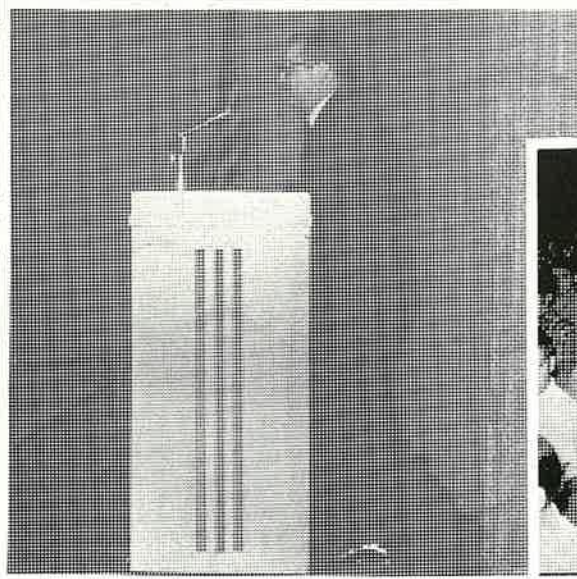

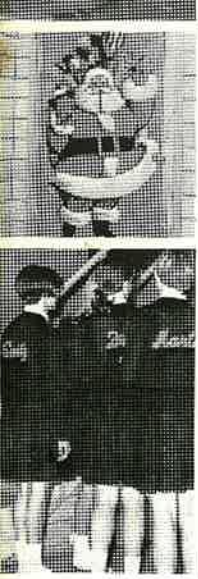

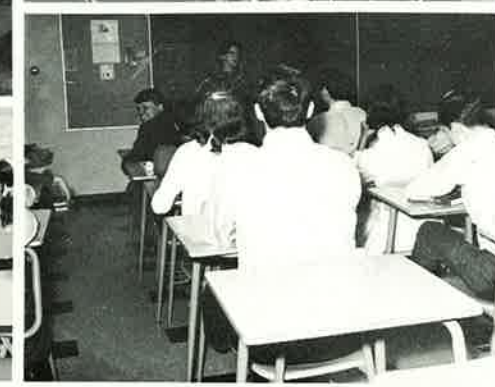

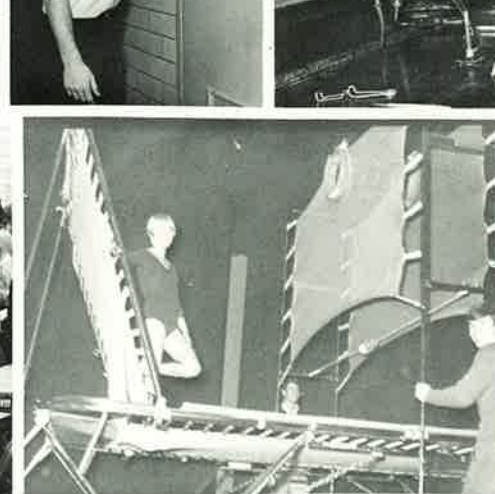

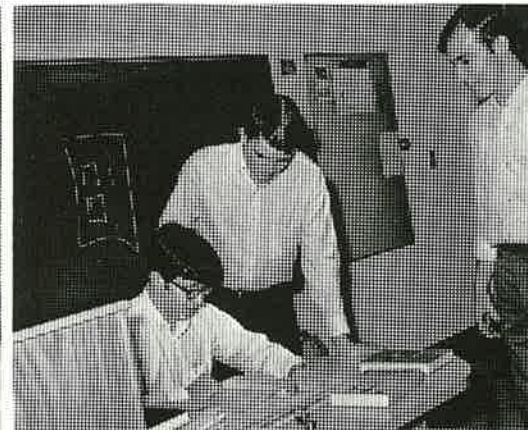

Two home economics students demonstrate the art of making biscuits.

The cheerleaders construct a hoop before one of our football games.

POTPOURRI

School means potpourri. School is a collection of people, places, and things that can't be grouped under any one particular heading.

"A CHRISTMAS CAROL"

The Cratchit family gathers around the fireplace.

Mrs. Lawson prepares Debbie Jackson for her role in the musical, "A Christmas Carol".

The Cratchit family sings of their happiness.

Scrooge astonishes the Cratchits with a surprise visit on Christmas.

Debra Wood takes a break between scenes.

The Ghost of Christmas Past prepares Scrooge for a journey back in time.

Marley warns Scrooge of a visit by three ghosts.

DANCES AND PARTIES

School means dances and club parties. Such activities allow the students to get acquainted with one another. The Flunker's Fling is an annual favorite.

Jim Hastings, president of the Student Council, crowns Ruth Ann Dougherty, 1968-69 Flunker's Fling Queen.

Ruth Ann Dougherty reigns as the Flunker's Fling Queen.

The students dance to the sound of the Lost Souls.

BAND SWEETHEART

Miss Peggy Hamm, senior, was chosen 1969 Band Sweetheart. She was crowned during the annual Winter Concert by Jerry Bush.

Basketball Queen Court: Diane Donaldson, freshman; Kathy Branaman, sophomore; Karen Sommers, junior; and Janel Gaither, senior.

Band Sweetheart Court: Becky Pegler, sophomore; Peggy Hamm, senior; Cheryl Free, freshman; and Chris Burris, junior.

Karen Sommers was crowned Basketball Queen before the Hatchet Bloomfield varsity game.

HOMECOMING

School means a Homecoming. One exciting event of the Homecoming is the crowning of the queen. Homecoming Queen Court: Emily Critchlow and Paul Franklin, Linda Lents and Chris McLemore, Mary Powell and Doug Worrell, and Gaya Friedman and Lon McMurtrey.

Freshman Float

Sophomore Float

Junior Float

Senior Float

Homecoming Queen Linda Lents, and her escort, Chris McLemore.

The football team takes a ride down main street.

Carson -----	Dan Fox

Mrs. Pate assists Blake Chambers in preparing for his role.

Everyone is surprised to see that Barbara Gage hasn't really eloped with Matt Rockwood.

Jonathan Rockwood finds evidence that the Gages' house is really his.

The Gage family prepares to have a meal of corn flakes and olives.

Uncle Walter welcomes the Rockwoods home.

Having no heat in their house, the Gages try to keep warm.

Debbie Dowling, Prom Queen of 1968.

MEMORIES FROM PROM NIGHT 1968

Couples walked from a spring shower into the enchanted world of a Tahitian Holiday. They were greeted at the door by two native girls who gave them leis and welcomed them to the festivities.

The gym was decorated with swaying palm trees, grass huts, and tropical birds. Entertainment was provided by the Sands of Time.

The 1968 Prom will always remain a cherished memory.

Prom Queen Court: Ann Weaver, Doug Worrell; Jamie McCracken, Fred Hartz; Debbie Dowling, Monty Critchlow; Mimi Lord, Larry Brawley; and Debbie Clark, Mark Doades.

The Hatchets Football team, after suffering the loss of many seniors from last year's second place S. I. A. C. B-division team, began a vast rebuilding session. The 6 seniors lost by graduation will be missed, but Coach Whittaker's extremely young team will return 25 lettermen. Coach Emil Whittaker said the passing game was "adequate", but the running game was "inadequate". Defense was the greatest problem; however, next year all but 2 players will return. With the maturing of this fine group of young gridgers, the Hatchet future seems bright.

The Washington Hatchets, perennial power of Southern Indiana for many years, finished the regular campaign with a 10-10 record. Although the season record at first appearance seems mediocre, the Fighting Hatchets, with the fine Coach Kenneth Gray at the helm, played some outstanding games, including a three point loss to twelfth-rated Terra Haute Garfield and a one point loss in an overtime to the third-rated Vincennes Alices. The well-coached Hatchets of the hardwood have been a great source of pride to the whole community as well as WHS.
